GRECIAN PARADISE

It feels like Eden at Andronis Arcadia: catamarans on the Aegean Sea, private pools for every suite and indulgent gourmet meals fit for the gods. Opened June 2019 in the small coastal village of Oia on the island of Santorini, Andronis Arcadia is the newest resort from Andronis Exclusive, a group of five-star luxury properties from hotelier Miltiadis Andronis. The ambiance is quieter in Oia than the rest of Santorini—especially at Andronis Arcadia—and VIPs and the ultrawealthy come here to escape, not to be on the scene. This coastal town is famous for its sunsets, and the vistas from the hotel's infinity pool or one of its three restaurants are unbeatable at this bewitching hour. Even without the gorgeous views, dinner at the hotel's Opson Restaurant would be a vision. Based on classical Greece cuisine and using ancient cooking techniques, head chef Stefanos Kolimadis' multicourse tasting menus allow guests to dine like ancient Greeks. The world outside Andronis' walls beckons with adventure—from snorkeling and yacht cruises to exploring the island's natural hot springs, beaches and local wineries—as does the hotel's Evexia Spa, the hot stone and lavender massage of which is best-in-class, providing the perfect moment to reflect on the island's Eden-like nature. Room rates from $735 per night, andronisarcadia.com —Ashley Smith

Unlike many of the other hotels on the island of Santorini, Andronis Arcadia has chic, clean-lined interiors with modern furnishings.
